

The People that Deliver Exchange is the only network dedicated to advancing supply chain management professionalisation on a global scale

VISION

A thriving global network where organisations and individuals connect, share and co-create, with open access to PtD's tools and knowledge, and opportunities for peer exchange.

GOAL

To sustain, advocate and promote the growth of PtD's tools and knowledge, ensuring resources remain relevant and accessible, while creating space for innovation and collaboration.

WHO IS THE EXCHANGE FOR?

Governments, international donors, multilateral agencies, non-governmental organisations, academic institutions, professional associations, private companies – anyone with an interest in strengthening supply chain systems.

BENEFITS

- Share, adapt and build on PtD's tools and resources
- Exchange lessons, experiences and good practices across countries and organisations
- Advocate the recognition of and investment in supply chain professionalisation
- Promote evidence-based approaches to strengthen supply chains
- Connect and collaborate with other practitioners, policymakers, researchers and organisations

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

Community first

Members shape the agenda, activities and future direction.

Open and inclusive

Participation is voluntary and open to all interested practitioners, policymakers, researchers and organisations

STRUCTURE

An advisory group provides strategic direction for the PtD Exchange and the platform is managed by BeeSkilled

EXPECTATIONS

- Contribute to the exchange by sharing and collaborating to make the PtD Exchange a thriving community
- Participate in quarterly virtual meetings to spotlight tools, share updates and encourage peer exchange

The PtD Exchange is a thriving global network where organisations and individuals connect, share and co-create.

By fostering connections among practitioners, policymakers, researchers and organisations, the Exchange seeks to accelerate progress towards a world where supply chain management is recognised, valued and professionalised.
